

The 2008 Masters

Bay F1

Stage 1

Late Night Ambush

Course Designer: Mike Lunsford

Scenario: You're walking home late one evening when gang members attack you in the alley. You take out two drug crazed thugs and beat a hasty retreat. As you reach the end of the alley you notice more thugs hiding in the trees out back. You must decide if you want to take them out through a window in the fence because they are expecting you to appear at the other end of the fence. Take the head shots through the window or face them at the end of the fence, your choice. Since they are expecting you to emerge at P4 you decide to go low to confuse them. All shots from P4 must be from below the barricade, however you must still maintain cover.

Start Position: At P1 release ropes in both hands, arms hanging at sides.

Stage Procedure:

At the signal pull both ropes, draw and engage T1 and T2 with 3 shots each any order while retreating to P2. From P2 you may elect to bypass T3 and the activator as he is hiding with his back to you and doesn't see you come into view. Or, if you're feeling lucky you may engage the activator and T3 from cover at P2. There is no penalty for not dropping the steel activator. It is an activator only and not considered a threat. However, you must engage T4 from cover or while moving across to P3. You may elect to bypass the window at P3 and move on to P4 and engage T5 thru T7 from low cover. Shots on T3 can be made up from P4. T3 is NOT a disappearing target therefore will be scored as a failure to neutralize if not properly engaged. T1 and T2 will be scored for best 3 shots. All other threat targets will be scored for best 2 shots. All reloads to be IDPA legal.
